Appendix 2 Practical guidelines for staff for dealing with unidentified visitors and / or security breaches

Pupils

Pupils should be instructed how to respond if approached by unidentified visitors and should be encouraged to report any unidentified visitors to staff immediately.

Staff

The School recognises that even with the stringent security measures in place, security breaches may occur.

In the event that staff are faced with an unidentified visitor and / or security breach they should:

- assess the situation
- take immediate steps to protect themselves, pupils and anyone else affected
- if there is a risk to the health, safety or welfare of pupils or anyone else affected, staff should remove them from the situation to a more secure area within the School (if possible)
- stay calm and try to keep the pupils calm
- deal with the security breach in accordance with their training and in a manner which is commensurate to the potential threat
- raise the alarm and / or call for appropriate assistance or support from the Headmaster (or the emergency services in an emergency).

Appendix 3 Practical guidance on risk assessment for Lone Workers

A risk assessment should be carried out in the normal way, but you should also consider the additional hazards associated with Lone Workers and any determine whether any additional control measures required.

Examples of additional hazards include:

- the environment and location
- the time of day, work practices and patterns
- the degree of isolation
- the nature of the task
- the individuals concerned (including relevant medical conditions or physical restrictions)
- the history of any previous incidents related to lone working and / or risk of violence
- contact between the Lone Worker and their supervisor or manager
- precautions for foreseeable emergencies
- any other special or relevant circumstances.

Control measures

You should then identify suitable control measures which are commensurate with the potential risks which have been identified in the risk assessment.

For low risk activities, the following control measures may be appropriate:

- personal safety awareness training
- a simple booking in / out system
- an agreed system for raising the alarm in the event of an emergency (e.g. using a mobile phone).

For medium to high risk activities, the following additional control measures may be appropriate:

- additional training in dealing with difficult situations and / or handling violence or aggression
- a supervision and / or monitoring system which may involve regularly checking in with a colleague, or buddy
- automatic warning devices which operate if specific signals are not received periodically by Lone Workers (where appropriate)
- checks to ensure that a Lone Worker has returned to their home (where appropriate)
- other devices to raise the alarm in an emergency (e.g. a panic button or personal attack alarm).
